SSL certificates

Free SSL

Every website we host for you comes with a free SSL certificate for basic encryption. It's secure, but lacks warranties, organization validation, or other advanced features.

Why should you upgrade?

You may want to upgrade to a paid SSL for:

- Increased credibility (through organization or extended validation)
- Warranties against mis-issuance of certificates
- Wildcards for protecting multiple subdomains
- Visible trust indicators like the green bar (EV certificates)

Are SSL certificates necessary?

Absolutely! In Google Chrome, if your site is not protected by an SSL Certificate, your visitors will get a warning message that your site is "Not Secure".

SSL certificates are strongly recommended if you have a website that receives or transmit any sensitive information like credit card numbers, license numbers, social security numbers etc. They are also strongly recommended for any pages where a password is submitted. While SSL Certificates especially important in these instances, it has become more evident recently that all sites should actually be SSL protected. That's because many browsers have started to flag sites that are not using the SSL/HTTPS protocol for being unsafe. Protecting your site with an SSL Certificate can prevent you from having this distinction.

Cost savings:

Suggest that a Wildcard SSL could save money if the client has multiple subdomains, as one certificate will cover all.

What means 'DV', 'EV' and 'OV'?

- DV (Domain Validation) a basic validation where the certificate authority (CA) only verifies that the applicant owns the domain. No information about the organization is checked.
- EV (Extended Validation) is the most secure and offers visual trust indicators like the green bar and organization name, often used by high-profile sites.
- OV (Organization Validation) provides moderate trust, verifying the organization's identity but without the extra visual cues that EV offers.

Receive payments in WordPress in no time with your own payment form. No WooCommerce or other complex plugins needed. Ideal for recurring payments such as donations, subscriptions to products or services and memberships.

Recurring payments

Would you like to be able to automatically debit amounts from your visitors? 'Recurring payments' are also possible with this Pro plugin version within WordPress. Ideal for recurring payments such as donations, subscriptions to products or services and memberships.

Multiple payment methods

In addition to iDEAL, this plugin also supports other important payment methods. In Belgium, for example, Bancontact and the KBC/CBC Payment Button are popular. But your visitors can also pay with credit card, SOFORT, bank transfer, SEPA direct debit and Belfius Direct Net.

Flexible payment forms

With this plugin we can also easily build a form with your own fields, in the WordPress editor. You do not need HTML but also no iDEAL integration with complex form plugins such as Gravity Forms.

Whether you want to add text fields for name and address details, an "Accept our terms" checkbox or a dropdown, it's all possible. And a special email field checks that the input is really a valid email address.

Included in the costs

Automatic updates every year, unlimited iDEAL payments per site and technical support for the duration of your (valid) subscription. Technical support is provided by email. Despite what it may seem like, support experience has shown that calling to troubleshoot software is not effective.
